

Course Title	Photopolymer Etching
Tutor	Victoria Browne
Day & time	Monday to Thursday, 10.00am - 5.00pm
Dates	10/04/2017 - 13/04/2017
Course Code	SC1603PR03
Level	This class is suitable for those aged 17 or over. All skill levels welcome
Cost	£250

What is this course about?

During this short course, you will learn to master an innovative printmaking technique which bridges the gaps between photography, drawing and printmaking - exposing hand-drawn and/or digital positives to photosensitive plates. You will develop a series of photopolymer etching plates throughout the week. Guided by one-to-one tutoring from Sue Corke our Head of Print. The intaglio prints exhibit rich velvet blacks with a wide and continuous tonal range, sensitive to the original expression of the artist.

The studio is a low-toxic environment with dedicated printmaking facilities for professional hands-on learning; ideal for a study week abroad, to develop a body of work for a portfolio or an opportunity to learn a new creative skill. There is a maximum of eight students per course, materials are included and we advise that you book early to avoid disappointment.

By the end of this course:

You will be self led and have gained experience to continue developing your printing skills during Open Access on Thursday evenings or Saturday daytime.

About your tutor

Victoria Browne draws on public special collections to appropriate material research, applying traditional and innovative print techniques in the development of site responsive installations. As the Founder of Kaleid Editions her practice extends to artists' books in addition to curating and representing European based artists. She is the Associate Professor of Printmaking and Drawing at Oslo National Academy of the Arts (Kunstogskolen | Oslo), Norway, and a visiting lecturer in the UK . Browne's work is held in public collections at the Tate, V&A Museum, Bristol City Museum and Bergen Council. In 2011 and 2012 she received the Birgit Skiöld Memorial Trust Award for Excellence.

What level is the course and do I need any particular skills?

Ideal for complete beginners, for attendees requiring a refresher course or who have previously completed a course.

How will I be taught, and what feedback and support will I get?

Your experienced tutor will support you throughout the course in both group sessions and one-to-one support providing daily feedback, critique and constructive advice. Each course ends in a final round up session and should you wish for any specific feedback or support, please speak with your tutor at the start of your course.

Are there any other costs? What else should I bring?

Material costs are included in your course fee. Students should bring ideas, sketchbooks & drawing tools.

When I've finished, what course can I do next?

A rolling programme of specialist courses takes place on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and international visiting print-makers facilitate master courses on weekends throughout the year. Open Access with supervision takes place on Thursday evening or Saturday daytime.

Weekly breakdown

Courses at the Art Academy offer a structured approach to ensure specific subjects, skills and methods are covered. Below is a weekly breakdown of what will be covered. Bear in mind that these classes will move with the pace of the class so a degree of flexibility of what will be covered on which day will be employed.

Day	Topic/skills covered
Day 1: Introduction - Photograms	Sue will demonstrate the basic processes students will be following during this course of printmaking. Students will make a simple photogram using opaque markers and/or cut-out masks and learn the fundamentals of how to expose, develop and print photopolymer plates.
Day 2: Autographic Positives	Using ink, tusche and lithography crayons each student will expose an autographic drawing onto an A5 photopolymer plate
Day 3: Digital Positives	Using a digital inkjet printer to print a transparent positive each student will expose a photograph or digital image onto another A5 polymer plate.
Day 4: Developing Printing	Students will continue to print their plates and experiment with colour or multi-plate printing as appropriate to their images.
