What is this course about?

Understanding the structure of the human figure and the way it is situated within a space is an essential skill for anyone keen to develop their drawing and observational skills. Each week you will have a different theme to explore, working from the life model with guidance from our highly experienced tutor. With an encouraging focus exploring your own approach to drawing, you will work through a series of exercises, using a wide range of materials including charcoal and graphite. This course teaches skills and expressive drawing in a unique way to develop your drawing most effectively, and is suitable for more advanced drawers as well as beginners.

What topics do we cover?

- Understanding line
- Understanding Tone
- Measurement & Proportion
- How to draw the head
- Life Drawing
- Drawing texture

By the end of this course you will: produce a series of experiments in life drawing developing new and furthering existing skills in drawing as well as develop confidence in your abilities.

About your tutor

Francesca Corra graduated from The Art Academy with a First Class Diploma in Fine Art and is currently studying for a Masters in Medical Art with the Medical Artist's Educational Trust at the Royal College of Surgeons. She is specialised in drawing and has worked on numerous privately commissioned works as well as having exhibited internationally. Francesca is a London based artists who is primarily interested in the intersection between art and science. Her work is focused on exploring human anatomy and pathology, which she manipulates in her meticulous renditions.

What level is the course and do I need any particular skills?

This course is ideal for all levels.

How will I be taught, and what feedback and support will I get?

Your experienced tutor will support you throughout the course in both group sessions and one-to-one support providing daily feedback, critique and constructive advice. Each course ends in a final round up session and should you wish for any specific feedback or support, please speak with your tutor at the start of your course.

When I've finished, what course can I do next?

There are a variety of courses available as short courses over the Easter and the Summer holidays, also a wide range of evening classes, such as Intermediate Drawing, Introduction to Painting, and Creative Sculpture.

If you have more time available huge development can be made in your practice by attending one of our part time day classes in drawing and painting, or the certificate programme. Please see all the options available on our web site.
