DAILY BREAKDOWN

DATE		MODEL?
14 July 2022	Drawing: Looking at the basic light and dark shapes that form the head, using line. No paint required for this lesson only - only pencil, eraser, canvas. Aims: To understand the patterns created by light & dark on the head. Exercise: To draw (with pencil) the shapes that are created by light and dark within the head in strong lighting (no shading, only a line drawing).	YES 1 of 3
21 July 2022	Tonal study (monochrome oil sketch): Black and white is used to create a tonal study of the head. Drawing from previous week is required, as this will be transferred onto canvas and used to make today's painting. Aims: To study light and dark in the human head. Exercise: to paint the head in black and white, observing shadows, mid-tones, and highlights (using drawing from previous week as a map).	YES 2 of 3
28 July 2022	Colour study: Colour oil study (made on top of the tonal painting, made during previous lesson). Basic colour mixing demo given. Aims: To study colour and flesh tones in the human head. Exercise: to paint the head using a limited colour palette, observing shadows, mid-tones, and highlights (applying colour on top of black and white painting from previous week).	YES 3 of 3
4 August 2022	1. V.quick study in tone. 2. V.quick study in temperature/warm and cool colours. Aims: To study warm and cool colours in the human head. Exercise: to paint the head in colour, observing what is warm, what is cool, and what is in the middle).	YES 1 of 3
11 August 2022	Oil sketch using loose, thick paint. Aims: To paint the human head using very thick paint and big brush marks. Exercise: using thick paint and brush marks to paint shadows, mid-tones, and highlights; warms and cools.	YES 2 of 3
18 August 2022	Exercise using palette knife and thick paint. Aims: To paint the human head using very thick paint with a palette knife. Exercise: using thick paint and a palette knife to paint shadows, mid-tones, and highlights; warms and cools.	YES 3 of 3
25 August 2022	Different mark making used to paint a portrait. Aims: To learn how to paint a portrait using a variety of techniques in one painting (thick and thin paint). Exercise: paint the skin and face areas sensitively with smooth marks, whilst in contrast using thick paint and a palette knife to paint hair and clothes.	YES 1 of 2
1 September 2022	Different mark making used to paint a portrait (continued)...	YES 2 of 2
